LATEST NEWS.

From the Army of the Potomac—Heavy Fighting on Saturday—Stonewall Jackson throws 40,000 Men on our right—Glorious Conduct of Berry's Division—The Rebels Repulsed Handsomely—The Battle of Sunday—the most Terrific Battle yet—Gen. Sickles captures 2000 Prisoners—Desperate Fighting of the Rebels—It is reported that General Berry is killed Gen Sedgwick carries the Heights of Fredericksburg by Storm—He captures 1000 Prisoners and Eight Guns Later from Sedgwick—He fights a battle on Sunday—the rebels rebels repulsed—the Sixth Maine plant the First Colors on the Heights—retreat of Vallandamham

New York 5th

The Times and Herald contain long and interesting accounts of the proceedings of General Hooker's army

The N Y Times' correspondent states that after three days skirmishing on both sides, the rebels on Saturday afternoon and evening attacked our right flank, Jackson, with his whole corps of 40,000 men, throwing himself impetuously on Gen Howard's corp But the movement was only partially successful, and reinforcements being promptly sent to Gen. Hooker, the rebels were hauntomely checked Howard's corps consisted of Schurz, Steinwehr and Devens' divisions. The Times' correspondent states that this (Howard's) division shamefully abandoned their position behind their breastworks, and rushed panic stricken towards the headquarters

Our right was thus completely turned, and the rebels in a fair way of doubling us up

Gen Hooker was immediately in the saddle and turning to the commander of his own old corps, Gen Berry, exclaimed—

"Go and throw your men into the breach, and receive the enemy on your bayonets. Don't fire a shot The rebels can't see you"

They rushed gloriously at double quick to the rescue, pressing forward a horrid array of glittering steel.

The enemy were checked and retired to the breastworks, just abandoned by Howard's corps Batteries were immediately massed on the crest of the hill, pouring in a terrific fire until late in the night.

Gen Pleasanton has checked the enemy with a strong battery of twelve pieces. He drew up his little brigade of cavalry with drawn sabres, to protect the guns He had them double shotted with canister, and swept the enemy's position with a murderous fire

In the charge of the rebels they took from the township Dutchmen as the Times correspondent styles them, 14 pieces of cannon. The Germans fled past Gen. Hooker's headquarters in a panic.

Many of the members of Hooker's staff with pistols and sabres, vainly endeavoring to stay their flight. Gen Sykes' Regulars are picking them up

What made this great most disastrous was the fact that our rebels had by a branch road pierced the enemy's centre and penetrated for a mile, cut them in twain and secured the key to victory, when the turning of Howard's position obliged him to retreat, bringing off 400 rebel prisoners The battle still continued until midnight fiercely.

Another correspondent of the Times, dating Sunday evening, says it was reported from Gen. Howard's front that the rebels had been engaged all Friday night cutting a road past his right, but not much attention was paid to the fact

On the afternoon of Saturday it was reported by the picquets on the right of General Slocum's front, that wagons had been seen moving all day in a westerly direction.

Gen Sickles, with heavy force, was sent to reconnoitre, when the advance fell in with the rear of Jackson's corp. Gen Sickles immediately pushed on to check mate Jackson, and soon captured the entire 23d Georgia regiment, 400 strong, including the officers. This movement of Gen Sickles cut Jackson's force in two, and Gen Williams continued a flank movement on the enemy's right with good prospects of success.

It was supposed that Gen Howards corps, formerly Gen Kearney's, would successfully resist Jackson's movement, but the first division assailed, Carl Schurz's, almost instantly gave way, thousands of the cowards throwing down their arms and fleeing towards headquarters.

Gen Devens's division, disheartened by the demoralization of the others, was unable to stand against the rebels and Devens was a second time wounded in the foot, while endeavoring to rally his men

Gen Howard, with all his daring and resolution, could not stem the tide and the brigades of Gen Buschbeck and McFarland remained fighting as long as possible, retiring in good order.

Of course this disaster compelled the recall of Gen. Sickles, who had been vigorously at work

Gen. Williams division returned to find a portion of his works occupied by the enemy

Gen Sickles could not communicate with the whole of his army by the route he came, and Gen Hooker ordered a night attack to restore the communication.

Gen Warren's brigade, aided by Bell's battery, made an attack at 11 o'clock at night, which was entirely successful, and in a charge made by the brigade a portion of the artillery lost by Gen. Howard was gallantly retaken by Gen Robert Ward. The enemy were driven back nearly a mile. That night (Saturday) our men slept on their arms

On Monday, at 4 o'clock in the morning the rebels could be plainly seen on the plank road, about one and a half miles from Gen Hooker's headquarters at Chancellors House, which House had been penetrated the evening previously by a shell.

Our line of battle was immediately formed, and in half an hour our advance became engaged, the enemy advancing his infantry in overwhelming force, seeming determined to crush us.

Gen. Sickles and Slocum's brave men, however, held them in check, inflicting dreadful slaughter upon them.

French's division was sent in on our right, and soon crushed that portion of the enemy's line; and at eight o'clock in the morning, French sent his compliments to Gen. Hooker, stating that he had charged the rebels and was driving them before him.

Five whole rebel divisions were thrown upon Gen. Sickles, but he and his gallant soldiers held the traitors in check, taking during the day, an aggregate of over 2000 prisoners.

The fight was a desperate bandit-like conflict and the carnage was perfectly frightful.

The officers say he dead and wounded rebels covered the ground in heaps—the rebels literally throwing themselves upon the muzzles of our guns.

Gen Meade's brigade made fifteen distinct charges, and captured seven stands of rebel colors.

The 7th New Jersey, Col Francis, alone captured four stands of colors and 500 prisoners

Part of Gen. Couch's, (Second) corps was present, Hancock gallantly going to the relief of the hard pressed Sickles

The engagement lasted from 5 30 to 8.45 a m., when, being out of ammunition, our forces held their position for an hour at the point of the bayonet, when, being resupplied they fell back in good order to Chancellor House, where the position was again maintained with great havoc to the enemy, and considerable loss to ourselves

The vicinity of Chancellor House was now the theatre of the fight, and General Hooker maintained his headquarters there till 10 o'clock, when it was burned by the rebels' shells.

In the meantime Hooker had established a new line, and our forces were withdrawn from that point

At 11:30 a. m. musket firing ceased

The engagement lasted six hours and was the most terrible of the war Our artillery literally slaughtered the enemy, Many of our batteries lost heavily, but the guns were all saved.

The enemy is now no longer in our rear, but directly in our front, between us and our forces in Fredericksburg—we occupying a fortified and entrenched position

The enemy have gained some ground, but at the sacrifice of two of his seven divisions

On Sunday afternoon the rebels made several attempts to force our lines, several of his batteries and regiments being actually destroyed in attempting to carry the upper of our position, near Chancellor House, where a large quantity of our artillery is massed

Our present position is impregnable

The rebel General Lee has ordered that our lines must be broken at all hazards, but the rebels will only destroy themselves by their attacks

Our troops are perfectly cool and confident

The rebel General Hill is reported killed.

General Berry was killed while leading his brave men

New York, 5th.

Among the killed and wounded are the following—

Major General Berry, killed; General Devens of Mass., wounded on the foot, General Slocum wounded in two places; Colonel McKnight of 106th Penn., killed; Colonel Lummer, 175th Penn, killed; Colonel Brenbrock at 100th Pa killed; Lieut Col Scott, 31 Wisconsin, killed; Lt. Col Chapin, 86th New York, killed; Lieut Col Cogswell, 23 Mass, wounded in the arm; Lt Col Cook, 119th New York, wounded; Major Keenan, 8th Penn., Cavalry killed; Major Strouse, 8th Penn., Cavalry killed; Major Angell, 5th N. J., wounded, Lieut Col A Lindsley of Boston 5th Excelsiors, wounded in face.

New York, 5th

A letter from Falmouth dated Sunday 10 P M., says General Sedgwick attacked the heights of Fredericksburg, and gallantly carried them by storm, capturing the 6th and 23d rebel Miss. regiment, one company of famous Washington artillery of New Orleans and part of Alexander's artillery, in all eight guns and over 1000 prisoners

The storming force was General Pratt's big division, aided by General Gibson, who admirably planted the stars and stripes over the rebel works before the latter had ceased firing upon our charging column.

Our loss is moderate.

General Sedgwick afterwards engaged the rebels and drove them back, and at 5 p m Sunday had advanced to the brick church, 1 1-2 miles out on the plank road towards Chancellorsville

Here he had a severe engagement with Early's division, reinforced by Lee, but repulsed them sending to the rear another batch of prisoners.

The enemy are now massed in between Hooker and Sedgwick, and advantage resting decidedly with us.

After crossing and occupying Fredericksburg and considerable manoeuvering to obtain positions, the assault was made by the 31 and 6th divisions, under General Newton, on the rebel centre, Gibbons on the right and Howe on the left.

Newton's attack was made up Marye Hill, less than a mile from the main street of the city, at 11 a. m., on Sunday.

Newton's right column of attack comprised the 61st Ala., 45th New York, supported by the 1st Rhode Island, and 82d Pennsylvania

The left column of attack comprised the 7th Mass, and 36th New York, supported by the 43d New York, 5th Maine, and 6th Wisconsin.

As soon as the columns advanced, a terrible fusilade was opened by the rebels Col. Speer of the 61st Pennsylvania was hit His regiment wavered, but was rallied by Gen. Shaler, who carried them to the top of the hill.

The left column had about the same experience.

Colonel Johns of the 7th Massachusetts being wounded, his regiment faltered, but were rallied by Colonel Walsh of the 37th New York, and the columns follows went in once more and successfully

Colonel Burnham of the 5th Maine claims that his regimental colors were first on the hill

Major Hancock, Captains Billings, Young and Gray of the 5th Maine, were killed. We captured eight guns and 1000 prisoners. Our loss was about 1000 killed and wounded.

New York, 5th.

The financial editor of the Times speaking of the anxiety shown in the money market, yesterday, on Wall street, makes the following significant remarks—

"The market for gold coin acted as though good news had been telegraphed in cypher from near the scene of action."

Cincinnati, 5th

Hon Clement L Vallandigham was arrested at his residence at Dayton, Ohio, this morning, by a detachment of soldiers, who went up from Cincinnati in a special train last evening The soldiers were obliged to batter down two or three doors in his house before they could reach his room and take him

His friends then rung the fire bells and called out the people, when an attempt was made to rescue him, but failed. He was brought to this city.

New York, 5th

The city is filled with rumors all doubtless founded on guess work, as nothing is allowed to come over the telegraph wires by the censor at Washington.

New York, 5th.

The correspondent of the Commercial Advertiser at Washington, dating Monday afternoon, says General Hooker sends no bulletins of his success, but leaves all here from the President down to glean what information they can from the couriers of the New York press who pass through with information

The Union troops appear to have been gloriously victorious, and although many brave men have fallen, the virtual destruction of Lee's army will be a fatal blow to the rebellion. Every one here is in the best of spirits, and the long columns of prisoners who have been marched through Pennsylvania Avenue today are as many proofs of our success.

New York, 5th.

The World states that the battle was resumed on Monday, and was a most desperate affair

The rebels made a series of superhuman assaults on all sides, but were repulsed with terrific slaughter

Our forces have destroyed the bridges in the rear of the rebels across the Mattapony river, thus completely cutting off all retreat for them to Richmond.

New York, 5th.

The Express states that the pirate Alabama has destroyed the ship Puttgard at sea No date or particulars

Reports of General Sickles being killed are current here, but are not credited in well informed circles.

New York, 5th

The Philadelphia Inquirer has a despatch purporting to be from Washington yesterday, stating that a telegraph from Lee to Richmond was intercepted calling for reinforcements, announcing his entire ability to hold out two days longer and so they are sent

Stoneman's cavalry in rear of the rebels are said to have cut the Virginia Central Railroad near Milford station, Southwest of Chancellorsville, tearing up five miles of the track, and captured a rebel supply train, thus cutting off all rebel communication with Richmond

Army Correspondence of Whig & Courier

From the Twenty Sixth Maine in Banks' Expedition—The Battle of St Mary's.

Opelousas, La, Apr 21, 1863

I have time only to write a few hasty lines giving a brief sketch of our experience for the past fewdays.

After a wearisome march of five days, making from 75 to 130 miles, we are permitted to enjoy a little respite Our troops have endured great fatigue, but the general health of this great army is as good as when we commenced the march. I cannot give you the numbers of all our force, but the whole train reaches over a space of seven, perhaps ten miles Thus far we have been successful, the enemy having done little more to arrest our progress than burning a few bridges

But my design is more particularly to refer to the fearful battle of St Mary's on the 14th inst. Of this you will hear diverse reports—It commenced about 1 p m and lasted one hour and ten minutes, during which the firing on both sides was most terrific.

Our 26 h was one of the four regiments that were brought into line directly in front, of the rebels, who were concealed in the wood, having all the advantages of such a position. They were 5000, we about 1200. It is impossible to convey of the scene without witnessing something of the kind Shot and shell were hurled through our ranks with such rapidity that it seems miraculous that our men were not all killed or wounded; but they stood their ground and did their work like veteran soldiers. The Generals, who witnessed the scene, speak in most commendatory terms of their bravery and heroism Not one quailed before the foe, tho' they saw their comrades fall on either hand—It is believed they held their ground till not less than one hundred had fallen; As it was the enemy were repulsed—the victory was gained. After it followed the sad work ministering the wounded It was a day of most bitter experience I can never forget the sights and sounds of that day. Many of the wounds were very serious, and quite a number have since died Our loss in killed and wounded was 61 We expect that more than half that number will recover. Eight were killed at the time and seven or eight have since died Our very excellent Lieutenant Colonel, who has gained the respect and confidence of the entire regiment, received a serious wound in the right shoulder. We have, however, strong hopes that he will recover.

Where we are going or when we shall return no one can tell Our troops seem in good spirits They have gained a reputation for bravery that will not be forgotten We hope the afflicted at home will share largely in the sympathies of friends and in consolations of Heavenly grace.

In very great haste, yours,

J. BOWERS,

Chaplain 26th Me Regt

The head gunner on the pirate Alabama is one of the most accomplished artillerists that was ever in the British navy. He was paid off and got his discharge a few weeks before the Alabama sailed, and, instead of enlisting in her Majesty's navy, took a commission on the pirate at the very round sum of two hundred pounds sterling a month, in gold, which, at the present price of rebel paper, is the moderate salary of forty-two thousand dollars a year.

The condemned Sioux Indians, engaged in the late massacre in Minnesota, were secretly removed to Davenport, Iowa, on the 21st inst., where they will be confined at hard labor, in conformity with orders from Washington. The Minnesota people did not mean they should leave the State alive, and are much excited by the event.

Grand Fighting by Hooker's Army.

Probable Capture of Lee's Entire Force.

The reports of yesterday from Hooker's Army, show that a terrible effort was made by the rebels, on Saturday and Sunday, to crush Hooker's right wing, which was threatening to outflank Fredericksburg on the west. Lee apparently massed the main body of his troops and threw them fiercely upon Howard's and other divisions near Chancellorsville with the expectation of destroying the right wing of our army, and then turn upon the left at and below Fredericksburg. The movement failed, however, although one of our corps gave way at first. The rebels were repulsed with great slaughter after a terrible fight, and with considerable loss to our own army. Among others our own gallant Gen. Berry is reported killed, which we hope may prove untrue. The rebel General Hill is also reported killed.

While the rebels were thus attempting to crush our right wing, General Sedgwick attacked and carried the Fredericksburg Heights from the left and drove the rebel forces four miles from the city, towards Chancellorsville, where Hooker was with the right wing, and the rebels were at the last accounts hemmed in between the two wings of the Union Army.

The Sixth Maine was the first to plant its colors on the heights of Fredericksburg. Major Hancock, and Captains Billings, Young and Gray of this gallant regiment are reported killed.

It should be remembered that these reports are none of them official, but simply the despatches of the correspondents of the New York papers. And we think there is little doubt that Hooker has inclosed Lee in a net from which he cannot escape, and that he will have to capitulate or be cut to pieces, thus inflicting a blow upon the rebels which may prove fatal to their cause. If this repulse is followed by the movement in rear of the rebels mentioned with Sheridan's cavalry, we have great hopes that the next news will be surrender of Lee's entire force.

[See despatches on the first and third pages of to-day's paper.]

The raising of colored regiments seems to be going on rapidly, and these troops are proving to be excellent and brave soldiers. It is believed that the Government will be able to place a hundred thousand of them for southern service. Their value is becoming every day more and more acknowledged. General Banks entertains the entire defence of Port Hudson, or for a land forces, composed, in three or four weeks, of colored troops, and was thereby enabled to take nearly his whole force of white troops upon the glorious expedition which broke up the rebel power in the rich region of Mississippi. Some of these colored regiments, a number of the 54th Massachusetts within that, they have as good a knowledge of drill, discipline and tactics, and are as well drilled as any white regiments in the army. Being held so nearly in slavery, and now treated as freemen, one is astonished, from what we have heard at times of their high praises and speaking, to see how quickly they learn, and how willing they seem to become. I am now in favor of organizing the negroes into regiments. It is a most just and humane measure by our Government. There is no class more to be benefitted by the war than the present slaves, and I am willing they should do their part of the fighting."

The writer may be sure the negroes are, as a general thing, quite as willing to do their part of it, as the whites are to permit them. Still the prejudice against colored soldiers is wearing away with truly wonderful rapidity. A few months ago, the "arming of the blacks" was looked upon with horror and almost dismay by a large portion of the loyal people, and also by perhaps a majority of the officers in the army. Now, the groundless fears of trouble from entrusting arms to the colored men, are very fast wearing away, and it seems some persons that we are soon to rely, at no distant month, from the native albinos of these colored Union men who have hitherto been regarded from us with strange intuition. [illegible] a population of some million in the South is surely worth accepting. We believe the contest is to be decided by that and. A letter from General Grant's army says that there is now a great rush for commissions in the negro brigades—that six regiments are already formed in that army, and that negroes are constantly coming in and bringing hundreds of mules with them. The field for recruiting black troops is almost inexhaustible, and every man of them who comes to us weakens the rebels, by obstructing a labor from the fields which are producing food for the rebel armies. Every slave enlisted takes one from their force, and adds one to ours.

That prince of scoundrels, Vallandigham, has been arrested and carried to Cincinnati—on what charge does not appear—but we have no doubt the Government had ample proofs of his treason. His friends at Dayton, Ohio, wanted to take him from the officers, but it was, no go.

SOMETHING IMPORTANT FOR OUR MERCHANTS—New and Valuable Freight and Passenger Arrangement with the West. We learn that arrangements have been entered into by the Grand Trunk Railway Company and several lines of first class steamers (sixteen in number) to form a connection at Port Huron and Huron, for the transportation of freight and passengers between the Eastern and Western States—steamers running between Buffalo and ports on Lake Superior, Green Bay, Milwaukee and Chicago, touching at ports on Lake Michigan, also steamers to Saginaw and the Lake Huron shore ports, forming one line between Chicago, Milwaukee and Maine—connecting with steamers at Portland for St. John and the lower provinces, and also with steamer from Portland to ports on Penobscot Bay and River, and with the Maine Central Railroad to Bangor, and the Portland and Kennebec road to points on the Kennebec.

By this arrangement the Grand Trunk Agent at Chicago will give one bill of lading to any of the above points which ought to be at low prices as via New York or Boston, and with but one change from Chicago or Milwaukee to Bangor. By this arrangement our merchants will save from 15 to 20 per cent on the commissions, insurance and freight on every barrel of flour, and it always being under cover, it is delivered as clean and bright as when taken from the mill. Corn or wheat can be taken by this route at less expense than by any other, thus affording the merchants of Maine the same facilities as Boston and New York merchants now have.

The receipts of flour in Chicago last year were more than 100,000 barrels, and 128,[illegible] bushels of corn, and 3171 barrels of pork; the amount of flour received into the State last year was nearly 500,000 barrels, aside from that shipped from Portland.

The Grand Trunk is now in condition to transport this flour from the West, and is determined to make the rates to this place cheaper than by any other route—avoiding overcharge, and cases of actual damage will be settled immediately—thus giving our Maine dealers an opportunity never before offered. The time will be less than by rail all the way, there being no delay in transhipments.

The Grand Trunk is now under the direction and management of J. T. Hodges, Esq., so long and well known as the late moving Director of the Great Western Railway. He has a thorough knowledge of the wants of merchants and trading public of New England, and will furnish facilities to meet them.

Every Eastern merchant should look at the matter above referred to. He may find his flour sought in New York or Boston costing him more delivered here, than by shipping his flour coming direct from the West. Whether it is so or not it will do him no harm to investigate it.

☞ The next session of the Grand Division of the Sons of Temperance is to be held at Vassalboro', on the last Tuesday in July.

☞ The 10th Maine was to be paid off and mustered out of service at Portland, yesterday, if the rolls were ready. It is said the men have behaved themselves with great sobriety since their return.

☞ The proposed rebel taxes will amount to ten per cent of their whole valuation—niggers and all.

☞ We learn that Madame Anna Bishop will make a musical tour eastward, in a week or two, during which we may expect one of her concerts in this city. She gave a very successful concert in Portland, last week.

☞ A correspondent from Warrington, Florida, writes us of a plucky affair in which Lieut. Kelly of Co. I, 28th Maine, penetrated ten or twelve miles into the enemy's country on a scouting expedition, with only twenty men—encountered and drove in a line of rebel pickets and so frightened a rebel detachment of about 300 with the idea of a superior force, that they abandoned and set fire to their camp and a battery of three guns, spiking their pieces as they fled. The reconnoissance having been successful our party safely returned.

☞ Cotton and gold remain about the same as for some weeks past—the former at 60c, having dropped a little more—the latter fluctuating in the neighborhood of $1,50. Gold is now downward with the reports of Hooker's victory.

☞ General Fry is at Danville, Ky., making preparations for the enlistment of the 20,000 mounted infantry authorized by Congress, to serve in Kentucky, of which it is understood he is to have the command. It is thought he will be successful.

☞ No less than 568,000 bushels of grain was shipped from Chicago in one day last week.

☞ Mr. L. M. Yates, who had the editorial charge of the Machias Republican for a year or more, has enlisted and gone to the war.

LARGE SALE OF WOOL.—George W. Pollock, an extensive wool grower of Granton, Muskingum county, Ohio, a few days ago, sold seventeen thousand pounds of last year's wool, receiving 87 cents per pound, thus realizing $14,750—quite a snug little sum for a single item of farm produce.

☞ The iron clad Comanche, intended for California, has been all taken to pieces and is now being shipped on board the ship Aquila, at New York, for her voyage around Cape Horn.—The entire deck of that vessel has been ripped up, and the masts taken out, so as to get at the huge masses of iron.

☞ Captain J. D. Brooke, a young officer of the British army, recently shot himself through the heart, in Paris, because of an unrequited passion for one of the actresses at the Theatre Francais. He bequeathed to this woman all his fortune (30,000 francs a year) which she declined to accept.

☞ [illegible] men of the 10th regiment whose term of service has not yet expired, will remain behind as Provost guard for the 12th Army Corps under General Slocum.

☞ It is said that the government makes money by coining nickel cents, now that the demand is so great. These coins are said to be really worth only sixty-five cents the hundred. There are now at least six times as many in the hands of the public as are really needed, and presently speculators and hoarders will bring on a crash.

☞ Speaking of the rebel breastpins in the North, a contemporary defines a "copperhead" to be one who outrages the good sense (cents) of the nation.

☞ The school children in Dayton wear eagle buttons and badges showing the stars and stripes. To these the secessionists of the place object, as being "abolition emblems," and insist that copperhead and butternut emblems shall also be worn.

[The northern "democrats" used to insist that slavery was as good as freedom under our constitution—they now insist that rebellion is as good as loyalty.]

☞ Mr. Nelson J. Wheeler, a graduate of Harvard University, and a member of the present Senior class in Newton Theological Institution, has accepted the pastorate of the Baptist Church in this town, and will enter upon his labors early in July.—Skaneateles Farmer.

A Loyal National League was formed at West Brooksville, Hancock County, on the 30th ult.—David Wasson, President, Simeon Allen, Jesse Dodge, T. C. Tapley, Vice Presidents; G. V. Mills, Secretary, E. P. Parker, Wm. Wasson, S. B. Babson, G. E. Smith, Henry Griffin, Business Committee.

There is a determined spirit among the Union men of that town and a helping energy among its women.

The New England Sanitary Commission acknowledges the receipt of a box from the ladies of West Brooksville, containing a large number of vessels and useful articles for the sick and wounded soldiers.

The Massachusetts Legislature which adjourned last week, provided for an expenditure of about $4,000,000 for aid to soldiers' families, $1,200,000 for ordinary State expenses, and $400,000 interest on funded debt. The legislature appropriated, in addition, $1,000,000 for state defence and $500,000 for arms, and authorized the reimbursement of towns for bounties paid by cities and towns, which will amount to $1,500,000.

VILLAINOUS AFFAIR. A few days since two girls aged 14 and 17 of respectable families in Portsmouth, N. H., were out for a walk in that city, and were invited to take a ride by a person with whom they had some acquaintance.—They thoughtlessly accepted, and were taken on of the city to a house of low repute and there forcibly detained. The police were employed and found them. The scoundrel will probably go to State Prison.

ALIVE. Dr. Fisher, surgeon of the Forty-fourth Massachusetts regiment, relates the following incident of heroic self-sacrifice which occurred during the siege of Washington, N. C.:

"I must tell you of one here who saved a company of soldiers from certain death. A shell fell of soldiers, with a few negroes, attempted to land at Rodman's Point, but were repulsed by a terrible fire of rebel bullets—all scattered, and the boat and bring that to escape being shot. Meanwhile the coal stuck fast on the shore, when the noble African said 'Somebody's got to die to get us out of this, and it may as well be me.' He then deliberately got out and pushed the boat off, and fell into it, pierced by five bullets.

GREAT Spring Opening, AT BICKFORD'S

With opening Spring see BICKFORD coming
He hoists no flags, he beats no drums—
And yet, attracted by his fame
The Floey Tribe their homage pay
From lake and river, shoal and sea,
They rush to BICKFORD'S Jubilee
Sweet HADDIES and juicy CRABS—
Delight to press his marble slabs—
Nice Codfish from old ocean green,
From Portland daily come by steam
In their native salt water boiled
And not with fresh Kennebunkeag spoiled—
Cod, in all his flaky whiteness,
MACKEREL dazzling with his brightness
The noble SALMON, king of fishes
Thrusting aside all the dishes,
And that which makes the palate glad,
The sweet and toothsome river SHAD;
These with other smaller fry
Beside the Pickled, Smoked and Dry,
At BICKFORD'S ever do abound
When anywhere they can be found
His prices is low—his scales are just—
In Providence he puts his trust—
While nor shrinks health that is prejudicial
Pollutes his trade, which is—of fish oil!

CARD.

Upon taking leave of the public as Teacher of Dancing in which I have been engaged for the past eight years in this city, to enter upon a new business at the Mutual Store on Central Street, I would take this opportunity of returning my warmest thanks to the numerous patrons and the public generally for the liberal encouragement and uniform kindness which they have so liberally extended to me and manifested on several occasions in an especial manner.

I have disposed of my interest in the Dancing Academy in Mercantile Square to Mr. A. L. Spear, to whom I would bespeak a continuance of the same generous public favor which has rendered my past labors there so both pleasant and profitable.

Pennsylvania Avenue to the old Capitol Prison. ... their appearance was the subject of universal comment and remark. They were well and comfortably clad, and not one looked as though he had had not enough to eat.

Two officers, Major General Evans of South Carolina and a Brigadier General, whose name was not learned, were prominent in the number; both being tall fine looking men. They were dressed in light grey uniforms with three gold stars on the coat collar of the Major General and two on the Brigadier General. These officers were permitted to go about the streets accompanied by an unarmed corporal and made several purchases in the stores on the avenue.—Immense crowds thronged the streets wherever they appeared.

Major General Evans was the rebel General commanding at Leesburg during the Ball's Bluff battle.

There is a rumor current that General Stoneman has captured Gordonsville

PHILADELPHIA, 5.

The Washington Chronicle of to-day has the following—

A gentleman who left Fredericksburg early yesterday morning says that simultaneously with the commencement of the battle on the right, our batteries on the left opened on the defences of Fredericksburg and were replied to smartly by the rebels, but when the fire gradually slackened off, our infantry immediately moved forward under the direction of General Sedgwick.

The men had their bayonets fixed, and presenting a firm front, moved steadily on until they came within four hundred yards of the famous stone wall.

Here they met with a most murderous fire of infantry, while grape and canister ploughed through their ranks. Still they pressed onward to within a few feet of the road.

The wall cleared, and the ridge gained, the brave boys with a cheer pushed on to the 2d line of entrenchments, but no order reached them to return, which was complied with, but not without reluctance.

The opinion gained ground that it was not necessary to drive the rebels much further, as this would would prevent our forces on the right from reaching their rear.

So great was the panic of the rebels that they abandoned cannon, arms, knapsacks and everything that would in the least impede them in their flight.

The works were held all day without any desperate efforts on the part of the enemy to drive our forces from them. They kept up a pretty sharp skirmish, and occasionally made sallies out of their second and third line of entrenchments, but they were invariably driven back.

Upwards of 1300 prisoners were taken in this engagement, mostly belonging to Georgia and Virginia regiments.

A large number of officers, from Colonels to 2d Lieutenants, were also taken prisoners.

It is rumored that the rebels yesterday made or were preparing for an attack on our forces within the works, but it is quite clear to every one, independent of the high authorities we have for the opinion, that even if they have been successful, it will amount to nothing at all. The main fighting has been transferred to some other point and in the operations which are now progressing as we hope to a successful acmplation, the occupation of Fredericksburg is not of the slightest consequence. If the rebels have attacked as there is a probably a feint and will only amount to a useless expenditure of life and ammunition

SUFFOLK, Va., 4th.

At 9 o'clock yesterday forenoon General Peck sent a force of Infantry, Cavalry and Artillery across the Nansemond river at Suffolk to make a reconnoissance. They advanced cautiously up the old Petersburg turnpike, and when two miles out encountered the enemy's rifle pits, which were thoroughly manned.

The 89th New York and 2d New Hampshire Regiments made a spirited and successful charge upon the rebel works and carried them after heavy resistance when the enemy retreated, and fell back out of range, leaving their dead and some wounded on the field. During this time the Drawbridge battery and gunboat Smith Briggs were playing on the enemy, doing good execution among the sharp-shooters scattered in the woods. In the afternoon our troops came upon a rebel masked battery situated 2 1-2 miles north of Suffolk, and at 4 o'clock Davis' Massachusetts battery and gunboat Smith Briggs commenced shelling it out. The rebels returned the fire, which was kept up on both sides till sunset, when the enemy's battery was silenced

Colonel Ringgold of the 103d New York regiment was shot while leading his men in front, and died during the night. The Chaplain of the 26th New Jersey regiment was wounded.—Dr. Smith of the 98d New York was shot severely by an insane officer yesterday while the above skirmishing was in progress.

General Getty crossed the Nasemond 4 miles below Suffolk, and encountered the enemy, and it was rumored and believed he had succeeded in capturing a rebel battery of eight guns and a large number of prisoners.

This needs confirmation.

Scouts were sent out yesterday from Suffolk up the Somerton and Eatonton roads, but discovered nothing of the enemy, and after going about six miles they returned.

The enemy's rifle pits on the South Quay road, and in our front were abandoned yesterday afternoon, the troops leaving in great haste, taking their baggage with them, evidently having more important business elsewhere.

CHICAGO, 5th.

A special despatch from Cairo says steamer Lady Franklin arrived from Vicksburg Thursday night last. She reports that on that morning General Sherman with a fleet of transports accompanied by a gunboat, passed up the Yazoo and made an attack on the rebel batteries. In the afternoon several more transports followed with troops on board.

It was reported that General Sherman landed in precisely the same place he did when he made his former attack.

Cannonading and musketry were distinctly heard at Young's Point on Thursday, until long after nightfall.

A gentleman who left New Carthage on Wednesday last says a very heavy force of Gen. Grant's army had been landed on the Mississippi side of the river, 8 miles above Grand Gulf, and our gunboats had been shelling this latter place for several days.

CINCINNATI, 5th.

A disloyal mob has cut the telegraph wires in Dayton and set the Journal office on fire. It is feared the Phillipps House will be fired. The telegraph office has been closed for fear of being gutted by the rioters.

Fifteen or twenty most prominent secessionists were arrested today under General Curtis' recent order.

NEW YORK, 6th.

Locomotive from the prize fight between Coburn and McCook, says that there were 8000 spectators present. Coburn drew first blood in the first round, but knock down in the 4th round, and at the end of 38 rounds was declared victor. McCook was severely injured and came up at the last 20 rounds merely to receive punishment. McCook showed that he possessed more pluck than as a fighter, though a good wrestler and very game man.

NEW YORK, 6th.

Bermuda papers of April 24th are received The rebel steamers R E Lee and Cornubia, from Wilmington, had arrived with 1000 bales of cotton, &c

PHILADELPHIA, 5th.

A passenger who arrived this afternoon from Fortress Monroe says when she left there yesterday, fighting was going on near Suffolk

A force of Union troops had been sent against some works the rebels were constructing, and it was understood the rebels had been driven some distance, but no particulars were given.

BALTIMORE, 6th

A Loyal Union Press Meeting was held here to-night, the attendance was large and the proceedings were enthusiastic Ex-Governor W. G. Crosby presided, and addresses were made by Hon. E K Smith, Hon J A Peters, of Bangor, and others. PORTLAND, 5th.

PHILADELPHIA, 5th.

It is stated there was a great difficulty in choosing the referee and arranging for the great prize fight at Charleston today between McCook and Coburn for the championship of America. At the time the train from Baltimore passed this forenoon, the parties had just taken their places in the ring and were about to commence the fight.

A rebel prisoner at Aquia Creek explained the financial policy of the Conspirators very naively the other day. The correspondent of the Philadelphia Inquirer had asked him what would be done if their inflated currency should be further inflated by another year of warfare. "Why," said he, "we'll repudiate the whole of it, and commence a new issue just as the old Continental Congress did in the Revolutionary war and afterwards. That old Revolutionary debt never was paid and I doubt whether the Confederate debt or that of the United States Government will ever be paid."

HUNNEWELL'S

This Preparation, by its splendid results, has shown the great necessity of a cure for the Sick Stomach. Hunnewell's Remedy, which does its work on all and complaints, completely relieves the pains and leaving no stain or debility behind.

As most complaints of the nature proceed from inward causes, they are reached only through the stomach, and its aid of them, time and money is wasted by the usual liniments and Lotions.

Let this preparation do its duty based and it will be found worthy the name and fame of a true

ANODYNE!

IT CURES:

Neuralgia,

LOSS OF SLEEP!

For the Sleepless Invalid it gives the most refreshing sleep.

To Females, suffering the pains of Monthly Menstruation, it completely relieves, while Nature's work is undisturbed. This is a great important one, as from its nauseous dates most, if not all, wrecks of the Nervous System, and Chronic Female Complaints.

For Stomach or Tape Worms, it is a sure remedy.

For children, when Teething, it completely soothes the pain, very distressing with milk and rubbing the Gums. When very sweet give it in 6 to 10 drops doses in tea, and it is a perfect relief.

HUNNEWELL'S

This Valuable and Simple Medicine posts its character on being the type of a LATHAR-TIC, simple, though thorough in its action, seldom requiring but a single PILL for a dose or one at night and two in the morning—acts without the least griping.

POOR RICHARD'S

EYE AND EAR WATER.

This is the Best Preparation in the World!

READER, are you aware that every time you think, speak or sit, you draw on your eyes for strength to do so? Now you are doubtful to them, and if they have not arrested your body and shaken up in the prison of disease, remember they must assuredly will if you do not satisfy their claim (which is a small one) for all the services they render to you continually. They are crying to you for help every blood streak is a voice. Hear their cry, and save yourself by saving them. Give them a drink of POOR RICHARD'S EYE WATER, Morning and Night. This is all they ask, and they will positively keep your body out of the prison house of disease. They do not want to lose time in explanations. Try them and prove them. By faithful performance, Dearness can be cured and prevented.—Bathe both eyes and ears.

A Remarkable Cure in Bangor.

I, W. H. PRUNARD, do certify that my wife Esther S. has had weak Eyes from childhood, caused by measles. One year since a lump appeared on the lids of her eye. It increased to the size of a large pea, becoming painful and most accurate progress. It was healing, I took my wife with me to Boston, at the exchange she had the tumor removed, and the last strengthened her eyes. Since, I applied her medicine at seven o'clock in the evening, and at nine o'clock the lump was gone. We had not to move on it. My wife was down as people walking on the other side of the street which she could never do before. She has always had headache when riding in a carriage. Yesterday, when riding in a carriage, she felt no return of headache. My child eyes were treated one of three times by Mrs. Brown. I find them much strengthened. W. H. PRUNARD,
109 Pine street.

Thousands of certificates might be added. Use POOR RICHARD'S and throw away your SPECTACLES.
